

Jan. 13, 2010

Hello all. It's that time of year again, when we begin gearing up for the American Heroes Air Show at the Museum of Flight, at Boeing Field here in Seattle. This year the big day is June 19, 2010 from 10 am to 3 pm. The Museum of Flight and the local members of the Whirly-Girls are excited to co-host this helicopter-only event that increases the public's understanding of the importance of helicopters. We really hope you'll be able to participate.

This year promises to be bigger and better than ever. In addition to increasing our number of static display participants in both the helicopter static displays and the Code 3 Career Fair in both helicopter and public safety, we'll again offer helicopter rides for attendees, which is always a big hit.

As always, the event is free to participants and attendees. We'll be providing a VIP room for our participants with a continental breakfast and a hot lunch, as well as a few extras to make sure your day is enjoyable. Also, the museum has offered to give all participants a free admission ticket to the museum to use anytime, so you can return at your leisure and enjoy all the facility has to offer.

Please take a moment to fill out the attached form so we can plan for the event. You can fill it out directly in Word, click save and send it back via e-mail. I understand that commitments are contingent on availability on the day, but really need to know if you plan to participate at this time so we can budget for space, food and any other needs that may arise.

All we require of helicopter participants is they arrive with ground handling wheels and, if required, a tow bar. You MUST have ground handling wheels as insurance does not allow for hovering into the space unless arrangements are made for you to be the first to arrive and the last to leave. We have a cart to tow aircraft. We also have the ability to park your aircraft in a place where you can launch on a moment's notice if you're on call. For our Code 3 Career Fair participants, we just need to know if you are on call and would need to leave in a hurry.

Thank you again for considering participating in our event this year. We strive to make this an event that both the public and participants enjoy.

If you have any questions, feel free to call or e-mail me anytime. My phone number is 206-250-3209 and my personal e-mail is jen@heligirl.com.

If your agency requires additional information or other specific items from me in order to consider participation, please let me know as soon as possible and I will file those additional items.

Thanks much and I'm looking forward to seeing you,
